Welcome!

Thank you for coming to see the Concrete Timbre production of A/K/A Benjamin (Franklin's Women). Tonight's concert features original contemporary music compositions that explore Benjamin Franklin's female identities, satires, and hoaxes that were used to critique love, gender stereotypes, witch hunts, and the slavery of his era (and a peek at his art and science).

The Old Stone House was an early Dutch farmstead, built in 1699 by the Vechte family. In 1776, it was the culminating site of the Battle of Brooklyn, the first, and largest conflict of the American Revolution, and engulfed areas that are now familiar to all Brooklynites.

On August 22, 1776, British troops disembarked along Gravesend Bay and the American War for Independence began in earnest. The British overran the Americans' outer defenses, leaving the Continental Army on the brink of defeat. In a feat of sheer heroism, General William Alexander organized several companies of Maryland and Delaware soldiers and attacked the British positions at the Old Stone House. This provided a brief window for the Americans caught behind enemy lines to escape across the Gowanus Creek to the safety of the American fortifications on Brooklyn Heights. Two nights later, under the cover of darkness and fog, General Washington effected his legendary retreat across the East River, saving his army to fight another day. In the late 1800s, the Old Stone House was the clubhouse for the Brooklyn Dodgers. And in the 1930s, it was the centerpiece of Washington Park, rebuilt by Robert Moses.

Concrete Timbre, Inc. is proud to be in such a historic setting, fulfilling our mission to create and produce events that intertwine fascinating stories, movement, visuals, and media with our live contemporary music.

Tonight, you'll see and hear genres ranging from jazz to classical to poetry to dance to video by professional creative artists working in imaginative ways and combining and enhancing the artistic disciplines. This is a largely collaborative effort that brings together disparate voices and concepts that involves the artistry of some very remarkable people—some who have worked with us on past productions, and some working with us for the first time. We are honored to present our work to you.

Concrete Timbre's artist leaders want to thank the 14 remarkable professional artists involved. Two of our key beliefs are that artists need to provide opportunities for other artists, and that our creative skills can be applied to development and production. We are proud of the artistic community that we have created and strive to inspire composers of all types to work outside their comfort zones in a safe environment to explore and create without boundaries.

We want to thank our audiences for your continued support. And to keep up to date, please sign up for our mailing list to get more info. So again, welcome to A/K/A Benjamin (Franklin's Women). We're proud of what you are about to hear and see. We hope you enjoy the show.

was written by Benjamin Franklin — anonymously (and he later revealed he wrote it) or written as Silence Dogood, Poor Richard, Polly Baker, Historicus, Sidi Mehmet Ibrahim, and The Left Hand (and he later admitted that it was written by him).

Introduction and transitional text was written by

Nancy Greening

Robert Morton, I am a geek. There, I said it. I love to figure out the art of new programs and gadgets. I like the word obsession. I still yearn to discover the espresso ottimo, bend the perfect blues note on my Fender, compose the Eiffel Tower imaginatively, capture the morning light, and see it with my own eyes!

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart My dear sister! I'm amazed to discover that you can compose so delightfully. You must compose more often.

John-Paul Norpoth enjoys extended dog walks with his wife. (Violinist and partner-in-crime Jannina Norpoth) Recently, he enjoys troubleshooting his various effects pedals, air-conditioning repair, and the odd and/or seldom televised competition for international artistic gymnastics.

Kyoko Oyobe, I am a piano player, composer, arranger, and band leader. I love cooking. I think that cooking food and composing music are very similar. And eating the food and playing the music are very similar... I love sharing them with people!

Richard Sage an avid supporter of artistic creation in best way to suit the situation.

Joe Tucker general music mercenary, likes hitting things with other things A LOT.

Alejandra Venancio likes to climb mountains, tackle crossword puzzles, and fail big. A theatre maker, mover, shaker, deviser, revisor, experimentator. She's learned a lot on this project and has been immensely lucky to collaborate with such incredible people.

Ann Warren walks through the streets of NYC and takes the clangs of construction, the sporadic beep beep of horns, the whirring of some type of unidentified machine that never seems to stop, then mixes in some occasional cabbie shouting expletives, the bass thump thump thump from a car passing in the night, the bar or stadium cheers for a Yankees home run and..., and is surrounded by music!

Kryssy Wright goes by *kryssy*light on social media. Avant Media has a good picture of her on their website. She has a cat and a Bessie. One day she hopes to be accused of being a witch.

Hugh Ash has taken his trumpet around the globe, performing everything from contemporary classical to standard repertoire, jazz, rock, and world music.

Benjamin Franklin I found myself incorrigible with respect to Order; and now I am grown old, and my Memory bad, I feel very sensibly the want of it.

Whitney George is a composer & conductor who specializes in the use of mixed media to blur the distinctions between concert performance, installation art, and theater. Her affinity for the macabre, fantastic, and bizarre frequently gives rise to musical programs to evoke traditions of phantasmagoria and melodrama, challenging musicians to experiment liberally with stage personae, and audiences to widen the scope of their attention.

Stephanie Greig is a second-generation freelance bassist and member in good standing of the Church of the Living Swing.

Nancy Greening loves directing and writing plays. Her favorite work represents the notion that the inner life can transform the world, and the inner life can be shared.

Manuela Lechler loves to play and compose music since an early age. To share the fun with you, I hope you enjoy it too!

Allan Markowitz, I love the story of why the French say, "Merde" instead of "Break a leg." I never played any role (at all) on Law & Order. I do play Malegüeña, Chopsticks, and sometimes Bach's Preludes.

Johari Mayfield is a dancer, choreographer, and author. She does research on the therapeutic potential of creative movement training in treating victims of sex trafficking.

As you look around, you'll see that we use technology.

We don't hide it!

Sometimes technology malfunctions at the worst possible times including performances!!!

If we experience such a situation, we'll address it immediately & inform you. And of course, we apologize in advance for any delays or inconvenience.
